In most parts of the country, things tend to slow down a little in the summer, but not in the Conejo Valley. Just look at all the terrific events in our summer issue – something for everyone, nearly every day of the week. And Conejo365 is your guide to it all, prompting many of our readers to vacation right here at home, where the action is.

Have an event of your own coming up? You can post it at conejo365.com by clicking on the “Add Your Event” button. It’s that easy. No event is too small for Conejo365. The goal since we started the magazine has been to bring people together and help them enjoy this beautiful area in which we live.

The magazine is the most comprehensive event calendar in the Conejo Valley, but it’s also one of the most effective promotional vehicles available to your business. Conejo365 is the publication that people hold onto and refer to on a regular basis, so they see your offerings frequently and over extended periods.

Want even more exposure? Advertise on our weekly email “Here’s What’s Happening in the Conejo Valley” that goes to well over a thousand email subscribers each week. Is social media your thing? We’ve also got that covered with our “Conejo365 Facebook Live” feature. We’re everywhere, raising your visibility in our vibrant community!

Lazy days of summer in the Conejo? No way! Enjoy!

TINY PORCH CONCERTS PRESENTS WILLIE NILE AND SPECIAL GUEST SHANE ALEXANDER
Peter Strauss Ranch, 30000 Mulholland Dr., Agoura Hills
The New York Times called Willie Nile “one of the most gifted singer-songwriters to emerge from the New York scene in years.” His album, “Streets of New York,” was hailed as “a platter for the ages” by UNCUT magazine. Rolling Stone listed “The Innocent Ones” as one of the “Top Ten Best Under-The-Radar Albums of 2011” and BBC Radio called it “The rock ‘n’ roll album of the year.” Bono, Bruce Springsteen, Pete Townshend, Lou Reed, Lucinda Williams, Jim Jarmusch, and Little Steven are among those who have sung his praises. Willie has toured across the U.S. with The Who and has sung with Bruce Springsteen and The E Street Band. As the induction program from the Buffalo Music Hall of Fame says: “His live performances are legendary.” Los Angeles-based singer/songwriter/producer/performer Shane Alexander has shaped a distinctive career for himself starting with his debut album, “The Middle Way,” in 2005. Touring the US and 11 other countries both as a headliner, and supporting such disparate acts as Bon Iver, Jewel, John Hiatt, Suzanne Vega, Seal, Styx and Yes, the fiercely independent artist has developed a loyal international fan base, had his work appear in over 100 television shows and films, and recently had his stunning solo acoustic track, “Skyway Drive-In” (from the album “Ladera”) cross over 10 million streams on Spotify. Admission is free, but we ask for a donation. Donation boxes will be at the venue. Proceeds go to the artists and the Santa Monica Mountains Fund. Visit the website for more information or to purchase Limited VIP Reserved Seats.

TINY PORCH CONCERTS PRESENTS THE LOWEST PAIR WITH SPECIAL GUEST ROSES AND CIGARETTES
Peter Strauss Ranch, 30000 Mulholland Dr., Agoura Hills

The Lowest Pair has been building up an impressive stateside head of steam since combining in 2013 to embark on their incredible musical journey. The duo issued two releases— together—in 2016. Kendi Winter, born in Arkansas, put three solo records out and performed in national-touring northwest string bands before forming The Lowest Pair with Palmer T. Lee. Palmer built his first banjo when he was 19 from pieces he serendipitously inherited. He began cutting his teeth fronting Minneapolis string bands and touring the Midwest festival circuit, which is where he and Kendi first met, on the banks of the Mississippi. “The Lowest Pair might be one of the best under-the-radar Americana duos today,” said Hillary Saunders, Paste Magazine. Roses & Cigarettes’ music is an eclectic blend of Roots, Rock, Americana, Country and Pop— the perfect recipe for the classic California sound. They have supported Jim Lauderdale, Luther Dickinson, Radney Foster, Elizabeth Cook, Billy Bob Thornton and the Boxmasters, Marc Broussard, The Record Company and Amanda Shires among others. Their music has been featured on KLOS FM and KCSN FM in Los Angeles. Admission is free, but we ask for a donation. Donation boxes will be at the venue. Proceeds go to the artists and the Santa Monica Mountains Fund. Visit the website for more information or to purchase Limited VIP Reserved Seats.

TINY PORCH CONCERTS PRESENTS DAVID LUNING AND SPECIAL GUEST BEARCOON
Peter Strauss Ranch, 30000 Mulholland Dr., Agoura Hills

The effect of hearing the songwriting legend John Prine’s music for the first time had a compelling effect on Luning. “A couple of friends invited me over to share some songs at their apartment, and that was the first time I’d ever really listened to Americana music. They showed me John Prine and it just resonated with me so much. I was like, ‘Oh my god, this is what I have to do with my life.’” Luning’s reputation for exhilarating, live performances earned him dates with luminaries like Jackie Greene, Dave and Phil Alvin, and Elvin Bishop, along with a slew of festival performances up and down the West Coast. After taking home the grand prize win at Buskerfest and being named “Best Folk Act” by the OC Weekly, Bearcoon decided to sell 95% of their possessions, quit their jobs, give up their apartment, and begin touring the country full-time. The duo spent 2016 touring the West Coast and making appearances at several noteworthy festivals, including Joshua Tree Music Festival, Mystic Faire (Bakersfield), and a headlining spot at the Long Beach Green Prize Festival. Admission is free, but audience donations are encouraged as they are a major source of funding.
